Gold Victory Cheers the Bulls, but Sympathy for Cuba Pleases the Bears.

The Falsity of the Report of Favored Intervention Causes a Strong Reaction.

A NET GAIN SHOWN FOR THE DAY.

Some Realizing by Recent Purchasers Begins the Slump That Follows the Noon Hour-Sales and Quotations.

Wall Street, Wednesday, June 17. The market turned on convention news and rumors. The rumors were more common than pieces of news. The market advanced in the morning on the certainty of the adoption of the gold platform, but there was little outside buying and many of the bonds the anti-McKinleyites had secured a sufficient number of of pledged votes to delay proceedings in the convention to afford an opportunity to crystallize the opposition to McKinley. The weakness of exchange was another hopeful factor.

The majority of stocks showed fractional net gains at the close, notwithstanding the pronounced reaction in the middle of the day, and the bulls were gleeful after the close of the market over their victory.

Sales of United States bonds were as follows: $1,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 4s, c., of 1907, at 110¼; $98,000 United States 5s, c., 113.

The market for foreign exchange was weak, and declined on liberal offerings by day, and the bulls were gleeful after the close of the market over their victory.

was little outside buying and many of the professionals took profits on stock accumulated at lower prices. In the noon hour the buying stopped and the market became dull.

On a report that the Republican platform would advocate armed intervention by the United States in Cuba, prices became very weak and rapidly sold down 1 to 1½ per cent. The bears did all they could to help along the reaction, but there were unquestionably some heavy sales of long stock. The three most prominent bull oper ators, however, sold shoulder to shoulder, and when in the last hour the Cuban platform report was stamped as false, they succeeded in rallying the market much more rapidly than it had dropped.

The traders who had sold in the reaction nastened to recover their stocks and accelerated the rally. The strength in the last hour was intensified by a rumor that the anti-McKinleyites had secured a suffi-

CHURCH SITE AGAIN SOLD,

Four Times in a Year the Old
St. Ann's Property Has Changed Owners.

Purchaser to Begin Excavating Today for a Ten-Story Modern Mercantile Building.

JOHN D. CRIMMINS WAS A BIDDER.

Absolute Interest, Subject to Annuities, Secured by the Contractor in a Madison Avenue Corner-New School Building.

Real estate speculators have their superstitions, and one of these is a weakness for old church properties. In a little over a year the old St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal Church, in West Eighteenth street, has been sold four times, and every sale has been made at a profit to the seller. This is the church for which Rev. Thomas Gallaudet was rector, and where the service was in the deaf-mute language.

At the time Slegel, Cooper & Co. were securing the site for their new department store, at Sixth avenue and Eighteenth discount for both short and three months bills, 11-16674 per cent.
